AMUSEMENTS.

Barlow. Wilson & Co.'s Minstrels.

The above troup, which is one of the best on the road, will appear at the Opera House on Wednesday evening next, March 5th. The Corrier-Journal has this to say of their recent appearance in Louisville:

"For the first time in several years, people were turned away from Macauley's Theater. It was simply impossible for the crowds seeking admittance to be accommodated on the inside of the house, and the result was that those who came last had to go back. By twenty minutes to 8 o'clock the seats were all sold, and before 8 people were being turned away. As it was, an audience of about 3,000 packed the theater from top to bottom, many of them being compelled, of course, to stand.

This is not strange, considering the number of visitors in town and the popularity of Barlow, Wilson & Co.'s Minstrels, who began their engagement inst night. There is o better mastrel troupe known to Louisville tancters of burnt cork, and their show this season is in keeping with their past performances, which have never been excelled here. The first part is full of tun and songs, sentimental and comic, well song. It concludes with some amusing "scenes in a telegraph office." The olio contains some Miss Laura Craddock, blue satin and white of the linest minstrel talent now before the public. George Wilson, of course, is therethe only genuine George, as happily humorous as ever. And then the "Four Aces" are on deck with their acrobatic specialties, and it is unnecessary to say that they make are Barney Fagan, the tamous clog dancer; Howe and Bell, the clog skaters; Frank Moran, the orator, and others. The performance ends with the operatic burlesque, "The Euchanted Castle," which is very clever was thoroughly appreciated by the audi-
